When Love Flies Out of the Window. By Leonard Merrick. By many readers this is considered the author's best novel. It is a brilliant story of theatrical life. The scene travels rapidly from London to Paris, back again to London and finally to New York.

THE first figure wears a white linen skirt and waist. The skirt is made with three circular flounces. The waist of a sheerer linen has rather full raglan sleeves and cuffs, collar and vest of pin striped black and white linen with an inside hemstitched flaring collar of plain white. With it is worn a wide black satin girdle and a small black satin bow tie. The hat is of white chip faced around it with a tiny bow at the right side.

The green linen is made in a modified 1880 style. The waist plain and rather tight fitting with the long shoulder line, buttons down the back and is relieved by flaring white collar and cuffs. The broad Roman striped girdle is brought well down over the hips.

The third figure wears one of the new capes, black and white check, lined with yellow broadcloth. Straps of the broadcloth cross in front and again in the back and are knotted at one side. The dress of light-weight serge has the new long tunic of Roman striped silk. It is shirred across the back, while the front is finished with a black satin girdle. The blue waist opening over a vest of white lawn shows where it ripples open, glimpses of the Roman striped lining. With this costume is worn the popular small, white hat.

LAVALIERE STOLEN FROM MISS RIPLEY

West Peachtree Home of Thos. J. Ripley Is Entered by Burglars.

The home of Thomas J. Ripley, at 141 West Peachtree street, was entered last night by unknown parties who stole a old plate lavalliere worth over two hundred dollars. Nothing else was taken and it is thought that the parties were after this alone.

The lavalliere was in the shape of a

Chicago, June 27.—Disappearance from the office of James J. Brady, state auditor, of documentary evidence bearing on the failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, was reported today.

One of the missing documents was

The report of J. H. Rife, a state bank examiner, who made the first report on the Rife bank as a going concern.

Rife submitted a report to La Salle Bank, then chief clerk of the state auditor's office. The late James S. McCough was then state auditor.

Rife indicated his political job as assistant secretary of the La Salle Street National Bank, which was then president of the Broadway State bank, another of the Lorimer-Munday string.

He also was president of the La Salle Street bank, attorney, and James H. Wilkerson, United States disbarred lawyer, was vice before grand juror.

A detailed statement of the transactions of Thomas H. Paynter, former president of the Lorimer-Munday bank with the Lorimer-Munday bank from 1905 to 1910, was made available when it operated under a national charter.

Paynter was the report believes that Paynter owed the bank $25,500, but that the bank had not been paid. Paynter was ousted from the senate by a vote of 55 to 28, Paynter voting with the minority in favor of Loring.

The record as given out by the United States marshal at Louisville reports to show that Paynter made no appearance in court between July 2 and September 20, in which time he was absent from the state. The vote in the senate was $28,150, and October 1, 1902, the balance of the Kentucky senate was called to order by the speaker, and a balance account was placed on the books of the state treasury, and the balance of the payments up to June 2 last, when the balance was $28,150, and the balance was a new one by obtaining a loan of $28,150, and the balance was $28,150.

In a statement yesterday, Paynter said that his note would be paid on demand.

Mother Stanislaus Tells of Recovery

Neglected throat trouble, and continued coughs and colds, often weaken the system. Investigate reports of recoveries brought about by Eckman's Alternative. Her is Convent of St. Anne, Sanford, Fla.

"Gentlemen: In February, 1911, four doctors examined my throat and pronounced the necessity of an operation. Having heard of Eckman's Alternative, I procured it from the Sisters of St. Francis, where I was visiting, of Eckman's Alternative. I determined as a last resort to try it. After taking four or five bottles I noticed a decided change came away. I continued the Alternative, to my gratified and daily relief. In ten months I was restored to perfect health. I would like them to see and hear from my own lips, if they so desire, all I would say of it." (Abbreviated)

Ekckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and upbuilding the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Every Monday is our Bargain Day in Slightly-used and Rebuilt Pianos

Our repair shops in Savannah and Jacksonville have recently been closed and all used Pianos and Player-Pianos, received in exchange for new Pianos, are now shipped to our central shops in Atlanta. friends of the cattle industry in Georgia, including the men who are promoting the packing house industry. The testimony is that the development of the proper sides of the cattle business is greatly impeded by the wholesale slaughter of calves. The practice entails a positive loss of money for the self in the sale of the calves. The calves are slaughtered or killed outright, would later grow into a product returning a tremendous profit.

If the rule bill is enacted, a long stride will be taken toward putting the cattle industry on its feet. The other step would be in encouraging farmers to import beef steers, which, bred to native cows, produce excellent beef cattle.

THE FIRE ALARM OF FIGURES.

A recent special bulletin issued by the census bureau, and covering the mortality figures for the year 1913, verifies the serious nature of the disease germ that crosses the color line. The bulletin gives several cities, all with negro populations, and shows, as follows, the significant disparity between white and colored death rates:

	White.	Negro.
Memphis	16.7	28.4
New Orleans	16.7	28.4
Baltimore	16.7	28.4
Nashville	16.7	28.4
Atlanta	16.7	28.4
Washington	16.7	28.4

Atlanta has nothing of which to be proud in her record in this respect. The death rate among the Atlanta negroes is given as almost twice that among the whites. These figures have been verified by the city board of health.

Every city and state with a negro population is at an unfair advantage with the rest of the country in the matter of fighting disease and the death rate. It is possible, theoretically, to enforce rigid sanitation and hygiene among the white elements. But unless similar laws are applied with equal rigidity to the negroes, it is likely the work will go largely for nothing.

The careless and ignorant negro is a menace to the careful and informed white man. He is likely to nullify the scrupulous sanitary safeguards with which the white man surrounds his home and his business establishment. Coming from breeding places of disease, he brings germs with him. He may carry infection into clean neighborhoods, leaving the source a profound mystery. His women return to their homes with germs for all we know. They come into our homes as cooks and other domestic servants, and the process is the same. On the streets, on trolleys, in all public places, we mingle people with the negro who does not know how to be sanitary. And the germ, being the original demagogue, does the rest.

Atlanta is gradually taking cognizance of these facts, and preparing to care for the negro with the same care that is given to the white. It is only recently, however, that it is rigidly enforced, we will in a measure be responsible for a high death rate among our own people.

NO SEX LECTURES.

Ellis Flagg Young, superintendent of schools in Chicago, told delegates to the General Federation of Women's clubs that lectures on sex hygiene had done much good in the public schools of that city. She said that school girls, instead of leaving the room with the "smirk of ignorance" did so with the "smirk of conscious wisdom."

With the broad principle of instruction in sex hygiene, only the most hidebound and ignorant person will quarrel. There has been, heaven knows, enough tragic mischief wrought through history by allowing children to climb into maturity without any save gully and fool knowledge of the underlying facts of life.

The question is, who is going to supply the instruction: Parent or teacher? The Commission incident to the former school superintendent of Chicago, Shilton, in Atlanta, and School Commissioner Brittain, of Georgia, have both taken the position that sex revelations do not afford a safe or expedient topic for school room discussion.

Mr. Young, undoubtedly, believes the pupils in her jurisdiction have profited from the sex lectures. Is there any way of finding out the other side, of determining how much mischief has been wrought by the passing on of such intimate knowledge by a person not related to the child, and unable to keep the child under surveillance with an idea of finding whether the reaction to the sex is genuinely or only apparently beneficial. There is one great source of danger.

federal troops could be kept indefinitely in that state. He added diplomatically that it was not to be expected any sovereign state should desire indefinitely to submit its affairs to martial law by outsiders.

And the president is right. The federal constitution very sharply intimates that no state should desire to exercise sovereignty so long as they give earnest of ability to maintain it. A state protected by federal troops is not a sovereign state. It is more like one of our island dependencies, controlled from Washington. And for commonwealth to have to admit to that status is a blot on its pride and independence.

The mischief of the thing is that once the states fall in this battle of wills between them for aid they are likely to forfeit their strength and their capacity for self-government. Weakness thrives on surrender, in states as in individuals. Instead of gaining states less when they confess inability to manage their own problems.

Of course, there are exceptions that compel a breaking of the rule. But there is no reason why they should be numerous or long continued. It is not that states, comparatively poor, even, spend money for adequate police service, than that they should court the obvious dangers of federal interference. And this is not to mention the disadvantage involved in the loss to self-respect, in itself a factor that cannot be overlooked nor minimized.

T. R. TAKES THE HELM.

There can be no question as to who is the boss, board of directors, nominating and house committees for the bull moose party. The day after Colonel Roosevelt had returned from his invasion of Europe he handed down the ultimatum that there was to be no fusion between republican and bull moose in the New York governorship. The bull moose would put out a straight ticket. This step, of course, the goos of Whitman, of New York city, unless the republicans choose to nominate him on their own hook with a negligible chance for election.

The Colonel himself manifested his characteristic cynicism with regard to the pressure to induce him to accept the nomination. At first, he had declined the honor, though his past record shows plenty of instances of timidity.

However that may be, it is tolerably evident that Colonel Roosevelt expects to knock himself into the mud with his own party. He has made a declaration that "if they read Perkins all the way through the progressive party, they will have to read me out." Incidentally, he gives the energetic George a personal call bill, appraising him as altogether selfish, which no doubt he is. Thus far the enthusiastic Amos Pinchot, who demanded of the Colonel that he heed Mr. Perkins, has not been interviewed.

Whether the middle-of-the-road attitude of the bull moose in New York augurs the same course in other states, is matter for conjecture. The Colonel several times has declared that if there is any amalgamation it is the O. P. that will be the goat. If he sticks to this policy he will likely lay large a menace in the fall elections. If he effects a coalition with the shreds of the republican old guard, under whatever conditions, and at whatever mutual concession, there may be a more dramatic story to tell.

One thing is certain, and that is in the world the Colonel again in his midst, bursting with energy and with the big stick a-thrill with rest for exercise. All this will help to wipe away the tedium of the summer months, whether the Colonel takes the stump or whether the policy remains indefinitely in cold storage.

REMARKING THE UNIVERSE.

The Iowa sterilization law, now held unconstitutional by the federal courts, is of a part with well-intentioned but premature federalism that expresses itself in extreme eugenics. Iowa has decreed that persons assumed to be afflicted with incurable disease or twice convicted of a felony shall be subjected to vasectomy, an operation that destroys their faculty of procreation. The case was appealed by a prospective victim, who charged the law as "cruel and unusual" in contravention of the constitution.

It is not improbable that in days to come public sentiment will reach the stage where it demands that persons of an incurable criminal or diseased nature be denied the right to propagate their species. The trouble with efforts toward that end in our time is that they are befuddled. For instance, it is pure insanity to lay down the rule that a person twice convicted for a felony is an incorrigible criminal. And the legal definition of felony is sufficiently diverse to produce disgust. Such phenomenal strides in medical science, however, we cannot say are decrees of incurable folly or, so held, will tomorrow yield to treatment.

The eugenicists and the faddists who apply to their cause. Hypnotized by the laboratory demonstrations of this or that, they are not long to see that it is provable in every-day life, they seek to find short cuts to widespread reformation. With one twist of the knife, one sweeping and brutal mandate, they would undo the errors of the ages, reform the human race while you wait. As a consequence, persons with cooler judgments and tempers better poised, soon grow to distrust any movement of this nature; while those who are unformed cut unduly a prejudice which may be decades in undoing.

We suppose the age must resign itself more or less to half-trimmed experiments in this direction. The one consolation is that there are enough sensible courts and discriminating men to hold and put on brakes at the jumping off point.

They seem to have placed the stormy peacekeepers in the front of the battle.

MADISON, WISCONSIN

Madison, Wisconsin, is located on the southern shore of Lake Monona at a safe distance from Milwaukee, and is tangled up between two beautiful lakes of pure drinking water in such a manner as to produce unlimited scenery. The old capital was formerly burned down and is not allowed by order of the owner.

Madison has about 30,000 people of unusually good quality, engaged in three occupations: banking, teaching and agriculture. The state capital is located in the midst of a shady park in the center of the city and is surrounded by a large number of public buildings. The old capital was formerly burned down and is not allowed by order of the owner.

Madison was laid out in 1837 and became the capital of the state in 1838. Before this the site of Madison was the scene of a skirmish in the Blackhawk war. However, this battle was very insignificant compared with the struggle between La Follette and Camp Randall, who won the football game between Minnesota and Wisconsin universities, which had annually been played at Camp Randall since 1889. Madison is noted as a summer resort and also for its fine roads and beautiful drives. Many statesmen visit it annually to view its legislature, which has in late years been held in the University of Wisconsin.

For it is not a city of students. Many of the students in the city are built of the finest material. The students are more violent than they are now. Madison has a large number of students, and is a city of students. The students are more violent than they are now. Madison has a large number of students, and is a city of students.

The House Without a Soul

By Frank L. Stanton.

I.
Something is missed from the meadows—something of bloom and of beam;
Morning is less than the morning, and Twilight's a sigh in a dream.
Lonesome—the lilies that loved her, the vine-floors droop 'round the place
Where once they looked in at the window and smiled in her beautiful face.

II.
The house seems the Shadow of Silence, yet speaks as the Silence will speak
When in halls that are curtained with shadows a loved, vanished Presence we seek;
When each moment that knew her was golden, with life in love's tender control;
But now 'tis a Home with the heart gone—a House without even a soul!

III.
For though Love has gone but a journey, it has taken the light of a life;
The red of the rose, and the beauty of "Mother," and "Sweetheart," and "Wife";
The green of the hills and the valleys, the blue of the shadowless skies—
All earth lacks the luster God gave it when lost to the light of her eyes.

IV.
I'm one in a dream, sleeping—waking—a strange spirit, dwelling apart;
And, calling: "Sweetheart!" to the Silence, that only can echo: "Sweetheart!"
I say to the flowers that miss her: "Not long for her touch shall you wait;
Hark! a rustle of robes on the lawn there—a latch-clink, and . . . Love at the gate!"

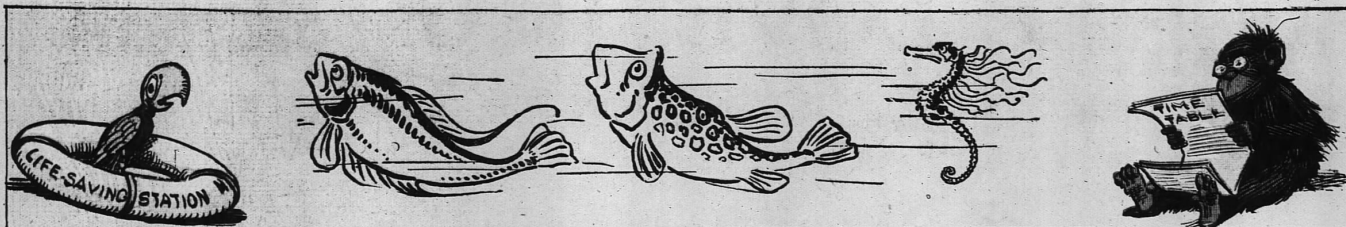

V.
O, the wonderful worth of one woman!—Life's dross turned to gold at her touch!
It's by that dull silence of absence you know that you love her so much.
It's the ache of the silence around you—no love-tones to answer Love's call;
It's the place where the lost dreams are sighing: The House With No Soul tells it all!

VI.
Dream of her coming, rose-gardens, and woodlands where wild-flowers throng!
Sing, birds, breast-deep in the blossoms! for you have been silent so long!
Seas cannot sunder a heart's love: Love o'er the world claims his own;
Give a house back the Soul that has left it, and a beautiful woman—her throne!

HANK AND HIS ANIMAL FRIENDS By Walt McDougall

AT WAYCROSS, GA., Beginning July 7th At Courthouse, Waycross, Ga. To Be Sold Under the Hammer

AT TRUSTEE'S SALE

Here Is Your Opportunity to Secure Some of the Finest Land in the State of Georgia
AT FORCED SALE PRICES

The above is a map of Deenwood Farms, comprising some 30,000 acres. They lie just west of and within two miles of Waycross, Ga., one of the busiest railroad centers in the south.

These choice farm lands are the accumulation of about 15 years of the best part of Mr. Deen's life, and owing to the development made by him and others in that section are now right in line for big advance in values.

It has always been Mr. Deen's intention to sell these lands in farm tracts to actual settlers, as they are splendidly adapted to Sea Island cotton, sugar cane, corn, oats, legumes, Irish and sweet potatoes, and truck crops of all kinds.

But his creditors are not willing to give him sufficient time to do that. They insist upon immediate sale, and Mr. Deen has consented to permit them to sell at public sale a sufficient amount of the land to pay off his obligations.

When that has been done, the balance will be reserved to be sold at private sale, as originally intended, and for its real value.

In a sale of this kind prices always range away below actual values. Here, then, is a chance you ought not to miss, whether you want land to cultivate or to sell again.

If 100 per cent profit on quick resales looks good to you, come down to the sale prepared to buy as heavily as your funds permit.

Note the general lay of the land; the public roads and railroads which intersect it, and the farms which have been sold and are now being improved and operated.

None of this land is more than three miles from a railroad, and most of it very much less than that. It has road frontage for miles, some of which are as fine sand clay roads as are to be found anywhere in South Georgia.

DO YOU WANT A FARM?

Here is your chance to secure one that will grow anything that can be grown in any state in the union, except wheat and apples.

HERE is the HOME of the PAPER SHELL PECAN.

122 1-2 acres, one-fourth lot to 490 acres; whole lot can be bought mighty cheap at this sale.

BUY TO RESELL

Any man with a few thousand dollars can pick up sufficient land at this sale to make him a small fortune in selling it out in farm tracts to his own friends and give them a fine bargain. Come prepared to buy all you can afford at your own price.

COME DOWN BEFORE THE SALE

We suggest that you come down a few days before the sale if you are in position to buy, and let us show you the property. Will have a corps of reliable men at your disposal for the purpose on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the 6th, 7th and 8th.

CITY AND SUBURBAN PROPERTY GOES, TOO

Waycross is increasing in population more rapidly than any other city in Georgia. According to U. S. Census Bureau, the gain was 145 per cent, 1900 to 1910, and 25 per cent, 1910 to 1914. Over 18,000 now, and will easily be 30,000 by 1920.

NORTH DEENWOOD, SOUTH DEENWOOD and IDYLWILDE are right in line of the biggest and surest development. They are fairly well developed now (see map) and 80 per cent of Waycross' new building is in direction of those suburbs—almost there, in fact.

The Hebard Cypress Company's big plant, the Anderson Lumber Company, and the Atlantic Coast Line's big shops surround Deenwood on the north, east and south, and Maryland Farm on the west.

Carswell street and Augusta avenue, two of the finest residence streets in Waycross, run through this property.

These suburbs are now within the city limits of Waycross, and will within a few years cease to be suburban, even in name.

H. W. WILSON, Commissioner

IDYLWILDE has a new $25,000 school building—and needs it.

WINONA PARK, the only amusement and recreation place in or near the city, is right in the midst of the property. STREET RAILWAY runs through Deenwood to Winona Park. Lots around the park are bound to appreciate greatly in value.

Someone is going to pick up some wonderful bargains in suburban property at this sale. Will it be you?

Sale of city and suburban property will begin TUESDAY, JULY 7, 1914, at 10 a. m., at Courthouse, and may be continued and sold on the premises.

Don't fail to be here.

I am interested that my friends should know of this opportunity to buy these lands at their own prices.

JET BOWDEN, Auctioneer for Commissioner

By Isma Dooly

Her arrival at the early hour created quite a stir in the assembly, and apparently a great deal of interest in her oratorum. She was introduced by Mrs. White and proceeded with her address on "International Peace." It was the first time she had ever spoken in public, though there was neither brilliancy in the address, nor what is termed deep thought, there was an earnestness and sincerity which made her address to foreign women's utterances and appearance which made the occasion one most impressive. She had a charming personality, and a pleasant voice, and she was the woman upon whom the same honors had fallen as men of the world note had been proud to claim. She was a woman of a high character, and in her attitude, so much the woman unflinching in thought, attitude and action, that she was a woman who had been impressed that the women who have been called great by the world—those who have been called great by the world—those who became great through a purely woman's sphere and method.

Southern Merchants' Assembly New Name for Gala Gathering

Directors of Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association Officially Name Big Merchants' Gathering to Be Held Here August 3 to 15—Some Changes in Program—All Committees Named.

"Merchants' Week," has given away to Southern Merchants' assembly.

It's one and the same thing—except "Merchants' week" is now a has-been, and the Southern Merchants' assembly is to be the real title of the big gathering of southern merchants in this city, August 3 to 15.

This change in name, along with many other important details looking to the success of the big meeting, was decided upon Friday afternoon at a meeting of the directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association held in their rooms at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Some changes were also made in the program of entertainment as previously arranged, and the program as outlined for the coming week was approved out for the benefit of the thousands of guests who will visit Atlanta next August.

At the meeting, Friday, of which Willis E. Ragan is chairman, committees were named for the entertainment, and a finance committee was also named. Since it has been definitely decided to have these gatherings for the benefit of the merchants only, once each year, it is the purpose of the directors to make these meetings not only profitable to the merchants, but also to the city.

Since it has been definitely decided to have these gatherings for the benefit of the merchants only, once each year, it is the purpose of the directors to make these meetings not only profitable to the merchants, but also to the city.

A list of more than 100 merchants throughout the south has been prepared, and on July 1st, an official invitation to visit Atlanta during the coming season, with each invitation accompanied by a list of the names of the merchants who will be present.

"A QUESTION"

What is justice, as applied to law? Is it a punishment? Is it a reward? If a man commits a crime and is punished by law, is he a criminal? If a man commits a crime and is not punished by law, is he a criminal? If a man commits a crime and is punished by law, is he a criminal? If a man commits a crime and is not punished by law, is he a criminal?

Justice is the letter of the law—the intent of the law being carried out. A crime is a violation of the law. A criminal is a person who has committed a crime. A punishment is a penalty imposed on a criminal. A reward is a benefit given to a person who has done good. A crime is a violation of the law. A criminal is a person who has committed a crime. A punishment is a penalty imposed on a criminal. A reward is a benefit given to a person who has done good.

FOOD NOT SO SCARCE AS FIRST REPORTED

Rumor Concerning Famine at Vera Cruz Was Apparently Somewhat Exaggerated.

The telegram recently sent to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce by Secretary William C. Redfield, of the department of commerce at Washington, notifying that body of a most serious scarcity of food supply at Vera Cruz, and suggesting that immediate arrangements be made with Atlanta merchants to send large quantities of corn, beans, potatoes, etc., to that city, seems to have been a sort of "tempest in a teapot." At least all efforts on the part of Secretary W. C. Cooper to get at the real facts regarding the situation, and to get in touch with responsible merchants in the distant city, in order that relief, if any, were needed, could be intelligently done, has failed.

The first telegram received on June 12 from Secretary Redfield, stating that the American consul at Vera Cruz had wired on June 10, "food supplies are scarce and prices are high. coming articles; prices for staples almost prohibitive; potatoes, for example, are sold at normal prices. Also sugar and all foodstuffs are scarce. Vera Cruz has allowed entry duty free." The telegram further stated that the Washington secretary had wired for the department of commerce to send large quantities of corn, beans, potatoes, etc., to that city, and would furnish them to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. And not long after Secretary Cooper asked for more information regarding the situation, and later letter Mr. Cooper received a few lines from the American consul at Vera Cruz, stating that the situation was not so serious as first reported, and that the government transportation could be arranged for the foodstuffs.

With reference to previous correspondence, Mr. Cooper has informed the department that our people were not to be misled by the rumors. He has received further advice respecting quantities, and has the names of men in that city ready to receive the foodstuffs. He has been taken to task by the Vera Cruz, by the 15th, if at all, and the situation is not so serious as first reported. The situation is not so serious as first reported. The situation is not so serious as first reported.

SOME OF THE GOOD YOU GET OUT OF "JININ"

If there be any doubt in the minds of some Atlantans as to whether or not the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is a business institution in this city, it would be dispelled if they could be made to see the value of the assistance rendered in making financial conditions for their members. For instance, the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is a business institution in this city, it would be dispelled if they could be made to see the value of the assistance rendered in making financial conditions for their members. Memphis Turtles Evened the Count, Winning 7 to 3

Doscher Driven From the Mound and Perryman Hit Hard—O'Toole Gets in Bad Again.

By Dick Jemison. Mike Finn's Memphis Turtles packed their grip Saturday night and came rattling for home with an even break in their series winning Saturday's game by the score of 7 to 3.

The work by batter pitcher baseball in every department of play. They were blessed with better pitching, fielded better in the pinches and they hit when the mound was a little better.

Howard Merritt twirled for the Turtles, the young left-hander wavered throughout, but he always managed to get the ball over the plate.

Jack Doscher, who has beaten the clock five times in the season, was hit for the fourth time by the Turtles.

The fan flock gave him a merry time and, like a human machine, he is, he proceeded to let the Cracker bats hit him as hard as they could.

There were no other features to the game, as the Turtles were too good for the Cracker bats. They were too good for the Cracker bats.

EIGHT COLLEGES IN REOLT After Meeting Here Wednesday, July 1

As one on the advisability of the formation of a new, smaller and more compact circuit than the S. I. A. A. is the case—and it comes with a rush.

Of course there is much in the present S. I. A. A. system that is all right, and a tendency to question it is not universal.

For several years past, it is well known, there has been an undercurrent of dissatisfaction among many of the members of the S. I. A. A.

This wish is voiced by those who are in the college ranks.

BRAZIL NUTS COMING

THIRD CARLOAD IN 30 DAYS RECEIVED BY NORRIS, INC., ATLANTA CANDY MANUFACTURER.

For the third time within the past thirty days, Norris, Inc., makers of Norris' candy in this city, have received a solid car of Brazil nuts, which are used in the manufacture of their delicious chocolate nut cream.

Notification of the arrival of the last car was received last week from James T. Scott, commercial agent of the Clyde Charleston Fruit Freight Line, in the following letter:

"We beg to advise you of the arrival of a carload of Brazil nuts, shipped from New York on June 11, loaded on steamship 'Lenape,' and transferred to C. & S. 13159 via the Georgia railroad.

This being the third car of Brazil nuts we have carried for you within the last thirty days, makes delivery in four days' time, proves that our service will enable you at all times to receive this merchandise in prime condition."

The other two carloads of Brazil nuts, which were placed early in May, were the last of the season. Norris, Inc., the largest consumer of these delicacies in the South, has found another car on the way.

As you have been deriving in carload lots have been wonderful results in making of a small mountain as they were piled in the car. The nuts are of the best quality, imported direct from Brazil, and are of the largest size, which makes them especially desirable for candy making.

Another product of this firm which is sold in carload lots is the famous "Norriss' Candy." This candy is made of the highest quality of ingredients, and is sold in carload lots at a price which is very low for the quality of the product.

L. F. Kenney Will Introduce Johnson Shock Absorber Here

L. F. KENNEY,
Southern representative of the Johnson Shock Absorber company.

L. F. Kenney, a prominent business man of Chicago, has been in Atlanta for the past week, at the Hotel Anson, investigating the conditions of this section with a view toward the successful introduction of the Johnson shock absorber.

In Chicago where there are 150 miles of bituminous boulevards, Johnson shock absorbers are seen upon from five to six thousand of the fifty thousand automobiles in service and the same ratio is found in other large cities of the country.

After reviewing, in detail, the local street and road conditions as compared with Chicago and other cities, Mr. Kenney has concluded that a greater majority of the ten thousand motor car owners of Atlanta and territory surrounding will manifest a substantial appreciation for a device that does eliminate and successfully dispels the very objectionable conditions that have heretofore been impossible to overcome.

The sales policy of the Johnson firm is one that has proven popular to the thousands of car owners throughout the United States. It is a plan whereby the owner is enabled to equip his car with Johnson shock absorbers without any obligation on his part, whatever. It is made possible for the automobilist to test the absorber thoroughly in every manner on every road, until he has proven absolutely to his own satisfaction the possible advantages before making a purchase. This plan is made possible, Mr. Kenney states, by virtue of the fact that the Johnson absorber is the result of the most careful thought and rigid tests of the experienced and able engineers. The Johnson patent contains two essential features not found in any other absorber on the market. The recoil check and the adjustment that enables the owner to adjust the load to the road.

Mr. Kenney stands ready to undertake to prove by practical demonstration and simple methods, based on same logic, to the entire satisfaction of any auto owner in the city of Atlanta, that a set of cast-steel Johnson shock absorbers, when properly installed on a car, will show a saving in tire maintenance, spring repair and gas cost to exceed the initial cost of the absorbers twice every year, in addition to a 100 per cent added riding comfort to the car.

Within the next week the Johnson shock absorber will be found at practically all the Atlanta dealers. Installations are being rapidly made, and motorists in Atlanta is beginning to ride with ease.

VANTIE IS WINNER OVER THE DEFIANCE

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 27.—With the Resolute retired for ten days for repairs, the yacht Vanitie and Defiance raced today on the sound again in the lightest of airs. The Cochran yacht won without difficulty. At one time the Vanitie was nearly two miles ahead, but the Defiance regained some of the lost distance. The difference between the two at the finish was 4 minutes and 3 seconds. On corrected time the Vanitie beat the Defiance 7 minutes and 43 seconds.

The accident to the Resolute was not serious. The bowsprit cap was discovered to be out of place and the bowsprit had slackened. The Resolute will meet her rival again off Newport July 1.

The other two yachts will race off Larchmont Monday. The race was the second for a cup offered by Commodore Harold Vanderbilt, of the Seawanhaka Corinthian Yacht club and under the conditions of the gift it goes to the Vanitie.

AUTO COMPANY ISSUES PAPER FOR DEALERS

House organs have become a feature of the automobile business. The Overland Motor company has issued a paper for dealers.

Some very handsome specimens of printing art and evidence of journalistic ability are being sent out.

Of Detroit, Mich., however, has departed a somewhat from the best line and is publishing a regulation four-page monthly magazine in the name of its dealers.

So favorably has it been received and the undoubted advantage it has been to dealers in the United States prompted the company to issue a foreign edition.

Large numbers are being sent to England, France, Germany, Russia, Zealand, printed in the languages spoken in the respective countries.

In addition to the benefits accruing to the Maxwell company, a splendid list of publicity for the manufacturing industries of the United States will result from this display of enterprise.

GRIFTH AND SCHAEFER HAVE BEEN SUSPENDED

Philadelphia, June 27.—Manager Griffith and Germany Schaefer, of the Washington American league, were today notified by President Ban Johnson that they had been indefinitely suspended for their part in the affair at Shibe park yesterday, which resulted in the umpire forfeiting the game to Philadelphia.

Concerning the Intrinsic Price of the Overland and the Inflated Price of Some Other Cars

PROBABLY the most confusing problem every auto buyer faces is the wholesale manner in which many automobile dealers seem to willingly cut prices.

In fact this evil has grown so bad of late that some explanation is necessary.

In the automobile business, the fault does not lay entirely with the dealer. It can be traced, directly, to the manufacturer. And here is how it is worked out:

Many manufacturers place a price on their car which is anywhere from 20% to 30% above its intrinsic value. Thus they figure they can give the dealer a high theoretical discount (which he cannot earn) as well as a high price (which he cannot get) so that he (the dealer) can judge the price around to his heart's content, and by offering his product at an apparently cut price can deceive the public into believing they are saving some money. Or else they leave the price alone and throw in an extra tire or two all of which amounts to the same thing.

This is a notorious snare and one of the oldest deceptions known to business.

For the advertised price was inflated from the start.

Right down in his heart the manufacturer knows that in order to meet competition the dealer must cut the advertised price. Thus the manufacturer thinks that because the dealer can slightly cut this inflated price it will act as a great inducement to the buyer. The trick being, that because the dealer cuts the swollen price the buyer is supposed to be duped into believing he is getting a bargain—whereas exactly the opposite is true.

For instead of getting more for the money the buyer still gets less for more money.

The car—the price of which fluctuates at the will or whim of the dealer on the pretense or subterfuge of effecting a saving—is a good car NOT to buy.

Beware of the dealer who has a fluctuating scale of prices. He is a good man to stay away from. By necessity any car that he handles must have a fluctuating value and must have back of it a fluctuating service.

Can you go into John Wamaker's in New York and attempt to strike a bargain?

Can you go into Marshall Field's in Chicago and start to haggle over the price of anything?

If you want a Big Ben clock, a Victrola, a Howard Watch, a Steinway Piano, a Gillette Safety Razor, or any one of a hundred other staple articles—haven't you got to pay the advertised price which is fixed at its source of manufacture?

So it is with the Overland car. The price is fixed at the factory. The price is made as low as it can be made. Value considered—none are lower.

The fact that the Overland price is maintained in spite of pretty keen competition is pretty good evidence of the stability of our dealers and the faith the public have in the Overland car itself.

Even the cut prices of other manufacturers are usually above our staple prices.

We have but one logical inducement to offer—the car itself at the advertised price—no more—no less.

The fact that we are shipping over 5000 cars a month—the fact that we are doing more business than any of those inflated car values—the fact that we do more business in one month than some manufacturers do in twelve months—proves that our policy must be fundamentally correct, and that the policy of some of the others must be fundamentally incorrect.

Careful comparison with other cars will show that a car of the Overland quality and mechanical efficiency offers much greater intrinsic value for less money than any other similar car in the world.

We say again—beware of the dealer who approaches you with a cut from his price. He is endeavoring to deceive you into thinking you are saving money.

We want you to become acquainted with the Overland. Come in and see us. Thorough demonstration—any time—any place.

Firestone TIRES

Cost you no more to buy than the ordinary. In every other respect Firestone Tires stand alone.

The Firestone builders have the largest factory in the world where only tires are made.

This gives them the authority of specialists in the field.

This year Firestone output increased 78 per cent.

For 14 years they have held the standard of quality without a break—and each year Firestone has made a better tire.

Because Firestone experts are the pioneers in tire improvement, always in advance with the better method, the more efficient machine, the refinement of workmanship.

The record of races won on Firestones has been spectacular. Their road-work in daily grind has clinched the Firestone Slogan—MOST MILES PER DOLLAR.

These all mean enormous sales, gigantic output and reduced production cost. This also means that Firestones sell at the price of ordinary tires.

And don't forget the concentrated effort, specializing on tires, with the finest working equipment in the world.

See the Firestone dealer now. You pay only ordinary price and you get the extraordinary in service.

500-Mile Race Again Proves the Greater Mileage in Firestone Tires

Barney Oldfield, on Firestone Tires, captured the American honors in the International Sweepstakes, Indianapolis, May 30th. His average speed for the 500 miles was 78.15 miles per hour. He made only three changes, while some drivers, not using Firestones but who finished in the money, changed tires thirteen and fourteen times. Two of Oldfield's Firestones went through unchanged.

This record with the winning of first place in 1911 and First and Second place in 1913 by Firestones, in this world test of Tires, should be a clear tire buying guide to you.

Gainesville, Ga., June 27.—(Special.) The wedding of Miss Isabelle Charters and Mr. John Smith, of Gainesville, took place at the First Baptist church, Gainesville, on Tuesday evening, June 23, at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Martin, pastor of the church. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. J. J. Charters. The wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, and best man.

The beautiful decorations, music and flowers lent joy and happiness to the occasion in which so many friends in the city and from over the state were deeply interested.

The ceremony itself, performed by a classmate of Mr. Smith's, Dr. John R. Davidson, of Cummins, S. C., was unique. The stately procession of groomsmen and bridesmaids, and the dainty flower girls scattering roses before the bride, when all were grouped at the bank of ferns and palms made a joyous scene, solemn and yet beautiful.

Department of Home Gardens

EDITED BY
BEAUFORT MATTHEWS

History of the Elberta Peach

Children of the Home Garden league are interested in peaches. Elberta is not in cultivating them. One youngster wishes to know how Samuel Rumph, of Marshallville, Ga., made such peaches.

That will forever remain Mr. Rumph's secret, but one thing is certain, he raised the pollen of different blossoms and then grafted from the tree that came from the seed of that peach.

Mixing pollen is fine sport. You see, you make so many mistakes unless you are careful not to drop any of the pollen dust from the peach blossom. Then, of course, bags must be tied carefully over the blossom you are experimenting with to keep the rain from washing it away.

As for me, boys, I prefer grapping the budding tree. Elberta, some Mr. Rumph propagated it and he said it is like to pack it and bear some fruit grown in Houston say: "Turn up the red cheeks. That is what makes her sell."

An elegant occupation for a young lady. I've heard some people chirp, but do you know, boys, I never could after my lettuce and freshly planted seed.

INQUIRIOUS BOY.
My dear Inquisitive Boy: Birds are the dearest of my heart and I can ask no question that I will not answer. I will ask you a question that pops into my head.

Books to read:
"Our Common Birds." Published by Charles Scribner's Sons. "Birds of the Neighborhood." Published by Doubleday, Page & Co. "Birds of the Field." Published by the American Book Co.

Ask your Carnegie library for bird books and gardening books.

There is one bird you may kill and that is the garden pest—the English sparrow. I'll promise not to wear any feathers. Some day I will write you an article about Garden birds and we will organize an Audubon society to protect our garden birds.

Remember this, my inquisitive boy: I advise a boy who has space and take one hour in the afternoon and then lie flat on grass and watch birds the next two hours. There is not in such a boy as that. I do not call him lazy. He is a young scientist of the naturalist type. He likes to see you catch all the caterpillars in your garden this summer and raise butterflies under glass goblets. Ask all the questions that perplex and interest you.

Dear Miss Matthews: Our grass on the lawn is not coming in well. I want to use lime.

Use lime.
"Renovate your lawn and sweeten your ground." Lime your lawn, but not with burnt lime, as it is injurious to the roots of many plants. Ground limestone is the thing to use. It will not injure the blades or roots of your grass or any other plants, but will correct any acidity of the soil, thus keeping the soil in a more productive condition, promoting that green luxuriant growth so desired in lawns. All gardens should have lime freely applied to them; also where flowers are grown. It can be applied either before planting by broadcasting freely on the land and working it in, or by top dressing the grass or other crops at any time.

TENTH WARD CHILDREN WILL RECEIVE AWARDS

A set of awards were offered the children of the tenth ward by Miss Beaufort Matthews for the best all round garden and for tomatoes. Their decision will be made when the tomatoes are beginning to ripen. All contestants in this are asked to write a postal to Miss Matthews when their garden is ready for inspection.

Interested in League.
Dear Miss Matthews: I have received your letter and have carried out your instructions. I am certainly interested in the league, and sincerely hope it will succeed. I will write later to you to visit my garden. Sincerely,
MELBA FRANK,
5 Abbott Street, City, June 26, 1914.

LESSON XII.

Exercise for Physical Culture.
The most convenient time for doing exercises is in the morning before getting up, but before retiring. This does away with the necessity of disengaging the mind during the day, and the best results cannot be obtained while wearing corsets or any form of heavy clothing.

The exercises I am giving first are for all women, whether stout or undeveloped. They should be practiced every day, and will give you a healthy body. They will also give grace and elasticity of movement to the new dress.

This latter point is particularly important just when you are new to the gowning call forth a corresponding change in the body. It is only the woman whose body is in correct position that can stoop gracefully and that is the ideal of the ideal. Grace and attractiveness when the muscles are in perfect training, become stiff and awkward when the body is not responsive.

To Begin the Day.
Begin the day with the breathing exercises given in Lesson X. Follow with Ex. A Stretching. Stand with feet apart, arms at sides to above head, raise one arm and stretch drop arms at sides and heels of foot. Repeat ten times.

Ex. B to Limber and Strengthen.
Shoulder exercises—Lie flat on floor, face down, feet together and arms at sides. Raise one arm and stretch first over right shoulder and then over left, slowly and as far as possible. Repeat the working of the muscles across the back. Repeat ten times to right, ten times to left.

Ex. C for Balance—Raise on tiptoes.
Stand together, hands on hips, bend neck. Now bend the knees as low as possible, up to tiptoes, down, up for twenty times.

Ex. D for Correct Posture—Three times a day, at least.
Stand with back against a door in such position that the back of the head, the shoulders, elbows, hips of the hands and feet are in a straight line. Stand in this position for ten minutes. If practiced during the "teens" it is doubtful if they ever lose a good shoulder position. But it is a good habit to keep.

YOUNG GARDENERS OFFERED PRIZES BY MISS PARRISH

Some time ago Miss Parrish offered five $1 prizes to the boys or girls who had the best planned garden in the tenth ward. The successful contestants are the following:

1. Gladys Fuller, Oakland City.
2. Gladys Stevens, 60 Avon avenue.
3. Rebecca Jetter, 1000 S. W. 10th.
4. Meredith Mason, Murphy avenue.
5. E. P. Ryan, 31 Avon avenue.

be done with the corsets on! It will improve the poise and carriage of any woman.

Wand Exercises for Children and Young Women.
These exercises, always popular with children and young girls, do them easily, should not be neglected by any woman who would make the most of her figure. They will make the body light and agile. Practice several times a day with a walking stick or with a wand.

Ex. 1—Hold this in a horizontal position, with arms parallel and on a level with the shoulders.
Raise the wand with palms downward. Raise the wand with the shoulders at back. You can toward the waist line behind, inhaling with the breath, and exhaling when you bring the wand forward to original position. This not only expands the chest and develops the shoulder and arm muscles, but works away accumulation of fat between the shoulders.

Ex. 2—Hold the wand in front of the body with the palms out, the right hand about a foot higher than the left. Now, keeping the body well poised on the heels of the feet, swing the wand upwards to the right, as high as possible, and then to the left as high as possible, and repeat ten times. This is good for strengthening under arm muscles and will reduce excess flesh there.

Ex. 3—Hold the wand horizontally, palms in, with the arms falling full length at the sides. Keeping the body straight, lift the right foot, raising the knee as high as possible, and then the left foot, and repeat ten times. This is good for strengthening the legs and back, ten times and then the same exercise with the left foot.

Ex. 4—In the following lesson, Madame Cordele, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)
T. E. Gleaton today qualified before Judge R. W. Coney, ordinary of Crisp county, to fill the unexpired term of county treasurer of his son, R. M. Gleaton, lately deceased, which ends on January 1, next. Mr. Gleaton was appointed about ten days ago by Judge Coney.

Good Roads Delegates.
Waycross, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Making good to the amount of $40,000, Judge R. W. Coney, ordinary of Crisp county, to fill the unexpired term of county treasurer of his son, R. M. Gleaton, lately deceased, which ends on January 1, next. Mr. Gleaton was appointed about ten days ago by Judge Coney.

Notes on Woman's Suffrage National, State and Local

All Notices Intended For This Department Must Be in the Woman's Department Constitution by Thursday of Each Week

We all admit the cry of the uneducated woman. The time that children are not in school—4 hours a morning, interest on investment, insurance, on building and equipment, cost covered debts, empty halls, spider-webbed walls, all from the standpoint of an uneducated woman, we need not even stop to consider the masses of people eager, begging for the things such an opened school building would give them: proper recreation, necessary from a positive and negative point of view, higher education along social and democratic lines and numerous other things I might speak of were we considering school school centers economically.

But—we want to draw only a slight analogy between the misuse of school buildings and the disease of woman's suffrage. Here we have a woman, equipped, (well, if she isn't she ought to be) as well as a man. Her physical holdings are just as taxable, as subject to insurance, to all things in fact as a man. She is biologically an equal quantity in the scheme of things as a man, she has a head, trunk and limbs, each equipped completely to do battle with the world.

Her mind and body is cultivated in like degree. Instincts, not the same, but equal in weight and power, she has; and we have left this waste, this pernicious waste of power go on up to the present time.

Georgia women, as have women all through the states, have taken up for equality and to this end there will be a big count air rally on the capitol steps, Thursday, July 2, at 3 p. m. for the legislators. Prominent members of this body will speak for equality. It is the duty of every woman who introduced the bill and who stands in the state for all things pertaining to political and sociological reform, to be among those speaking for this bill. Dr. John E. White of the State University, who has been the champion of the Universal church, will represent the ministry on this occasion. A part of Mr. Henry Peeples' notable paper of the legal status of woman given before the Georgia bar association will be read. Wearing white dresses with yellow streamers, a number of prominent young women of Atlanta will be in distributing literature and badges. Among them Misses Margaret Stutling, Caroline Blount, Edith H. Peeples, Elizabeth H. Peeples, Schaeffer, Louise Youngblood, Elizabeth H. Peeples, Elizabeth H. Peeples, Isaac, Harry Schaeffer, Elizabeth H. Peeples, Elizabeth H. Peeples, Mrs. Shallenberger.

Price Money.
In The New York Herald Kossuth for the best article on suffrage, the prize of $100 was won by Miss Maud Nathan, of New York, who wrote in part: "It is just and because it is expedient in a democracy, where the people are supposed to govern themselves, the ballot is the direct method of self-expression. A government that denies expression to one-half the people cannot justly be termed a democracy. How can the men represent the women? A man casts one vote, representing his own views; if there are three dissenting views, how can his one vote represent them? It is the men alone who have built up this great republic. All women may take either directly or indirectly. Six million women are engaged in the industry and commerce of our nation. Legislation is enacted, regulating and controlling their lives, and yet their point of view is not considered. Legislators defer to their constituents, who have the power to re-elect them, office or to defeat them."

Trend of modern activities makes it expedient to enfranchise women. One by one women's duties have been taken away from her and placed in charge of city or state officials, appointed by the mayor or governor, who are recalled by the votes of men. Every department of a woman's household, more or less controlled by officials, more or less water, meat from non-ferocious cat-tles, poultry, canned foods, the housekeeper must depend upon the officials, who are recalled by the votes of men. She also depends upon the fire, police and street cleaning departments to protect her person.

WARE CO. TOBACCO BOOSTED BY EXPERTS

Waycross, Ga., June 27.—(Special.)—Tobacco experts who have seen samples of tobacco from the experimental farm started here this year by Representative L. J. Cooper, state that the ware county tobacco is as good as any seen in any of the tobacco belts of the south.

Only a small acreage was planted by the ware county tobacco farm from South Carolina to care for the crop. The success of the experiment made by Mr. Cooper, the expert in lead to more tobacco planting in Ware, as many farmers who have investigated the crop feel that there is big money in it.

Approximately $100 net per acre will be realized by Mr. Cooper on this year's crop.

QUESTION BOX

Miss Mary, quite contrary.
How does your garden grow?

Have all the Mary girls answered this question?
Many of your brothers have answered it by inviting me to see their gardens, and I find them growing splendidly.

Margaret Massengale, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Elmo Massengale, on Park street, has one of the smallest gardens I have seen, but it is a little beauty, and St. Elmo Jr. keeps the weeds out for his sister. I am glad to visit any garden, no matter how small it is. Plant your gardens and be ready for the second quarterly inspection. Geraniums grow beautifully now. Beans can be planted any week in July, and they make a fine show in a mid-summer garden.

Please ask questions and direct them to Beaufort Matthews, 118 Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga.

Note—Any child in Georgia or any other state interested in home gardens is invited to ask any question that he or she desires to. Atlanta children would be glad to hear from the Corn club boys and the Canning club girls at any time.

Dear Learners: Are any of our members making any money out of gardening?

A FELLOW ON THE JOB.
Dear Fellow on the Job: Paul Cefalu, on Pullman street, can answer this question. Dan and Jesse Waldrup sold tomatoes last summer, after turning their own table. Our members in College Park are distinctly on the money job.

Decorate boys can answer for the prize sweet peas being on Whitehall and we'd like them to send us their names. We are glad to enroll such boys.

If sweet peas will sell in June, tomatoes will in July. Stand on the same spot on Whitehall and show your friends. Ravennas and Jonquils will sell in the winter, so we will garden each year.

What is the matter with raising Chinese chives and narcissus in water for Christmas shoppers? How about geraniums in pots at 10 cents a piece for Christmas cards?

All learners are advised to get on the job and hold it down every month or the year.

Someone is going to win that silver postal to Miss Matthews when their garden is ready for inspection.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT TELLS THE STORY OF HIS SOUTH AMERICAN ADVENTURES IN THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION

AND HOW'S THAT FOR AN HISTORIC TEAM FOR CONSTITUTION READERS?

The Sunday Constitution is publishing, and will for some time publish the marvelous story of "In the Footsteps of Napoleon."

Fit companion piece to the tale of the greatest man of his time comes—

"THROUGH THE BRAZILIAN WILDERNESS" by—

THEODORE ROOSEVELT, with many Napoleonic qualities, the most talked-of man of HIS time.

THE STORY OF ROOSEVELT'S EXPLORATION OF THE SOUTH AMERICAN JUNGLES—WRITTEN BY HIMSELF—BEGINS JULY 12, IN THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION. MOST OF THE PHOTOGRAPHS WITH WHICH IT IS PROFUSELY ILLUSTRATED ARE BY HIS SON, KERMIT ROOSEVELT. THERE ARE TWENTY-EIGHT PAGE INSTALLMENTS OF THIS ELECTRICAL, THRILLING AND RED-BLOODED DOCUMENT, WRITTEN BY A RED-BLOODED MAN FOR THE TRIBE GENERALLY OF THE CRIMSON CORPUSCLE.

THE SERIAL RIGHTS OF THE ROOSEVELT STORY ARE COSTLY. THE CONSTITUTION DID NOT BALK AT EXPENSE IN OBTAINING THIS FEATURE FOR ITS READERS. IN COMBINATION WITH A FEW OF THE GREATEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS IT ARRANGED FOR PUBLICATION RIGHTS IN THIS COUNTRY.

With the publication of the "Napoleon" and "Roosevelt" series, The Constitution is following the editorial policy that, like other substantial American Sunday newspapers, it has a mission to instruct as well as interest its readers.

We could give the reading public puerile and prurient rot. We could serve up dramatizations of broken commandments, and all the foul so-called "features" with which the Sunday reading public in some cities is from time to time deluged.

We could easily serve the innocuous piffle which here and there passes for fit Sunday literature.

Beginning Sunday, July 12th, Colonel Roosevelt will each week for 28 weeks describe his trip with all its adventures, from the selecting of his party; the journey through Brazil; the finding of

But The Constitution's standard is—different. We seek to pick features that do three things:

That entertain!

That interest!

That instruct!

The Sunday Constitution is a newspaper that is welcome in every home. The advertiser knows it—and uses it.

Roosevelt is the most conspicuous unofficial figure in the world's eye today. Spectacular and picturesque, his every movement challenges interest, his every word arrests attention or "starts something." His explorations in South America furnish one of the most graphic stories of his meteoric career.

THIS FASCINATING SERIES

GIVES A THRILLING ACCOUNT OF COLONEL ROOSEVELT'S TRIP OF ADVENTURE AND RESEARCH INTO THE PARAGUAYAN AND BRAZILIAN INTERIORS, THROUGH THE GREAT TROPICAL FORESTS WHICH SO FEW WHITE MEN HAVE EVER TRAVERSED. THE JOURNEY UP THE PARAGUAYAN RIVER IN THE GUNBOAT-YACHT OF THE PRESIDENT OF PARAGUAY INCLUDES MANY DELIGHTFUL IMPRESSIONS OF BIRD AND ANIMAL LIFE; A VISIT TO A BRAZILIAN RANCH; OBSERVATIONS OF THE DREADED PIRANHAS, THE MAN-EATING FISH; THE HUNTING OF THE FORMIDABLE JAGUAR, AND, WHEN THE HIGHLAND WILDERNESS OF WESTERN BRAZIL IS REACHED, A WONDERFUL ACCOUNT OF THE VAMPIRE BATS "THAT SUCK THE BLOOD OF LIVING CREATURES," OF THE BEAUTIFUL FALLS OF THE SALTO BALLO, OF THE PARECIS INDIANS WHO PLAY FOOTBALL WITH THEIR HEADS, OF A WONDERFUL COLONY OF STRANGE SPIDERS, AND OF ALL SORTS OF BLOODTHIRSTY SMALL CREATURES. COLONEL ROOSEVELT WAS IMPRESSED ON ALL SIDES WITH THE "IRON CRUELTY OF LIFE IN THE TROPICS."

"The River of Doubt" and the return home from an expedition bristling with perils.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE IN 1915 PREMIER CARS

1915 Premier cars are fitted with a slightly larger motor and rated at 4-40 instead of 4-45, as last year. The bore of four inches remains the same, but the stroke has been increased from 3.5 to 4 inches. The motor has six cylinders and develops from 43 to 45 horse power. It has the new power plant with its wheel-included and three-point suspension. It is equipped with the Kemy electric starter and has incorporated in its design the latest approved practices.

GUS SOHL RETURNS FROM FACTORY TRIP

Gus Sohl, general manager of the McGraw Tire and Rubber company, returned this week from a visit to the McGraw factory at East Palestine, Ohio. The company has doubled their output for 1915. The McGraw tire is now manufactured in 1500 tires daily, and according to Mr. Sohl, the McGraw company is destined to be one of the greatest manufacturers in the automobile tire business.

Two Records are Made by New Cole Six

C. R. Turner, southern district manager of the Cole Motor Car Co., at the wheel of the new 1915 Light Cole Six; S. J. Kanqua, vice president of the Cole Motor company, in the rear seat. This is the first new Light Cole Six to be seen in Atlanta.

Indianapolis, June 27.—The fact that the Cole Motor Car company has added a little six to their line is in no way a surprise, for it was known that as long as a year ago last March the manufacturing run in railroad express through a blinding rainstorm. It is significant to know that as a result of the Cole opening here in Indianapolis Speedway week, 315 Cole motor cars were sold to new motorists or Cole representatives. Of this number 107 Cole motor cars of the new models were driven overland to their new homes; the remaining 212 Cole cars are to be shipped. Cole did not have the full number ready for delivery. There were 14 Cole little sixes sold; 24 being driven overland; 112 Cole four-cylinder models sold, 64 being driven home, and 58 orders received for the big six, 16 going overland.

The new line is completely standardized. Each model has the world's recognized units, such as the three-point suspended front-end power plant; the highest quality and strongest type front and rear Timken axles and bearings. Mayo radiator, Spicer universal joint, Lemmy steering gear, hydraulic pressed steel frames, Detroit steel product springs, rich Tungen steel valves, Stromberg carburetor, Delco electric lighting, starting and ignition system, Janney-Stetmetz gas-car company, "baked" the other day when we based the foundation on which we make such "broad" statements with reference to Hugmobile economy.

Now, a year ago, a question of this sort would have been a "poser" for us, for at that time we did not have on hand exact figures to back up such a claim.

In figuring up the cost for motor cars the repairs necessary to keep the cars in the repair shop, we order have a wide bearing on economy. It goes to show that an extent of time true that some motor car companies have claimed that, were they to stop manufacturing their product at this moment, they could still do a profitable business on their repair parts orders. Not long ago, in order to determine just exactly what Hugmobile owners have spent in repair costs, our auditing department gave me a report on all the repair parts sold to Hugmobile owners in the last five years. The record showed that on the 40,000 Hugmobiles now in use, that the average cost per car for repair parts—basing mileage at about 3,000 miles per car—was 27 cents, or 27 mills per mile—hardly more than one-fifth of a cent. Needless to say, this proved a big surprise to my inquiring friend.

Prest-O-Lite Users Should Watch for This Fraud

Certain parties in Atlanta and vicinity are endeavoring to defraud Prest-O-Lite users by substituting nameless, mutilated and worthless tanks.

These substitutes, when empty, can be exchanged in very few places. Your Prest-O-Lite can be exchanged anywhere and everywhere.

In addition, a substitute gives very inferior lighting service.

Bear in mind that an acetylene cylinder is not merely "an empty tank" which anyone can "fill." A Prest-O-Lite contains a porous filling saturated with chemical. The whole device must be kept in good repair, inside and outside; must be carefully tested and skillfully charged.

Whenever you exchange your empty for another Prest-O-Lite, you are getting what is practically a brand new Prest-O-Lite, tested, repaired and full of the highest grade acetylene.

Prest-O-Lite service cannot be obtained except under the Prest-O-Lite label.

Before you accept any cylinder in exchange for your Prest-O-Lite

Look for the Prest-O-Lite Trade Mark

Tear off any paper labels and look for the name Prest-O-Lite, etched in large letters on the side of the cylinder.

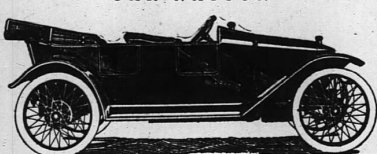

If the cylinder does not clearly show the word "Prest-O-Lite," without any guesswork, it IS NOT a genuine Prest-O-Lite, and is not accepted for exchange service by any Prest-O-Lite dealer.

Look at your cylinder today and see if a substitution has already been practiced upon you. If so, demand the return of your Prest-O-Lite. Communicate with us promptly and we will gladly help you recover your property.

NEW CHANDLER SIX GASOLINE MILEAGE EXCEEDS PROMISES

John M. Smith company, the distributor for Chandler motor cars, is more than gratified with the results obtained in an actual test made of the gasoline consumption of the new Chandler light six. The factory advertised this car to average sixteen miles per gallon. In a test run, the car actually obtained by both dealer and owner.

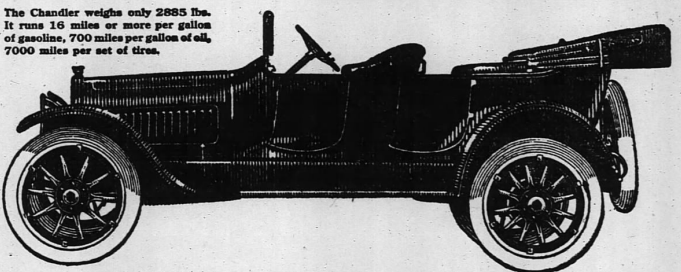

Ram D. Hewlett, who recently purchased one of the new 1915 cars, made a trip through north Georgia a few days ago, and upon his return reported that he had kept an actual account of gasoline used on this trip, and obtained a mileage of nineteen and one-half miles per gallon. This wonderful showing was made over rough and hilly country roads, and without any effort on the driver's part to save fuel. This and other features are excellent proof that the Chandler is going to be a popular car in this section.

UPKEEP OF HUPP CARS IS SURPRISINGLY LOW

"We Build Better Tires Than Goodyears"

That—in effect—is what makers say when they charge you higher prices. And 16 makers do that. They are asking for tires up to one-half more than present Goodyear prices. The inference is wrong. Those extra prices are all unjust. The verdict of users—as shown by sales—is that No-Rim-Cut tires are the best in the world. And in four ways they certainly are.

That Is Impossible

It is utterly impossible, so far as men know, to build a better tire than Goodyear, measured by cost per mile. For years and years we've employed scores of experts to find out ways to better them. Their efforts have cost us $100,000 per year. No-Rim-Cut tires mark the present-day limit, to the best of their belief.

How They Excel

No-Rim-Cut tires, in at least four ways, excel every other tire. Our No-Rim-Cut feature—which we control—is found in these tires alone.

Our "Co-Air" cure is employed by no other maker. This extra process costs us $450,000 yearly, but it saves many times that in blow-outs.

Our rubber rivets—formed to combat tread separation—are a patent feature found in no other tire. Our All-Weather tread —the greatest anti-skid—is an exclusive Goodyear feature. It is tough, double-thick and enduring. It is flat and smooth, yet it grips wet roads in a relentless way with countless deep, sharp-edged grips.

What We Save

Our matches output and modern equipment have immensely cut cost of production. They have cut our overhead cost 24 per cent, our labor cost 25 per cent. We have also cut our profit, and last year they averaged 6 1/2 per cent.

No-Rim-Cut tire prices dropped 28 per cent last year. They are half what they used to be. But never before was the quality so high as it is today.

Smaller makers can't compete on any high-grade tire. Their only reason for getting Goodyear tires. Almost any dealer will supply them.

NEW WATERPLANES AND PROPELLER FOR THE AMERICA

Hammondsport, N. Y., June 27.—The Rodman Wainwright trans-Atlantic air boat is being equipped with a new propeller in the opinion of her builders, will make the hull plane water as great a load as the water as the wings can carry through the air.

A new propeller is also to be tried on the America. The blade is the invention of a Buffalo man, who claims efficiency for his propeller than can be obtained from any now in use. The blade will be tested on other machines and the two propellers designed for use on the America will be attached to their arrival from Buffalo, probably on Monday.

If the new blades give fifty pounds more thrust than the propellers now on the America, as their makers assert, will be the case, they will be used on the trans-Atlantic flight. They are made entirely of metal and weigh thirty-two pounds each.

They Are Going Crazy Over the Maxwell "25," Says Charles H. Booth

Charles H. Booth, supervisor for the southern district of the Maxwell Motor Car company, was in the city this week looking after the business interests of his company.

"They are just going crazy over that little 25 Maxwell four. Why," continued Mr. Booth, "we cannot supply them. The dealers are writing me every day for more cars, and it is hard to keep up the demand, especially after the showing we made in the recent 500-mile race in Indiana."

Mr. Booth states that all the Maxwell factories are running full force, looking forward to a banner year in 1915.

Mr. Booth left Wednesday for Birmingham and from there will go to Detroit headquarters.

New Prices, New Stream-Line Design, New Equipment

AN ENTIRELY new note in body luxury and beauty, mounted on a chassis that includes every feature of real usable value that can be built into an automobile. New comfort for the man who drives his own car. New economy and riding ease that gives you a new idea of the pleasures of touring. Typically "Velie"—the perfectly balanced, wonderfully able "4-45"—the smooth-running, light-weight, powerful "6-50"—the nobby, clean-cut, light "Four" with 35 horse-power.

A Big, Roomy, Comfortable Car

The average owner wants to drive his own car. And he wants to be comfortable when driving.

Step into the front seat of any "Velie" model for 1915. Notice the room. On no other car, regardless of size and price, have equal provisions for the comfort of the driver been made. On the majority, in an attempt to make a six-passenger car out of a body that should never be called upon to carry more than four or five passengers, all comfort in the front seat has been sacrificed. In the "Velie" for 1915 the front seat is as luxurious and comfortable as the rear.

Step through the wide doors to the rear seat. Sit down on the deep, soft cushions. Real genuine comfort is your first sensation.

Drive over all roads. There is real luxury. The long, extra wide springs cushion road shocks. You do not get jounced around.

Open up the throttle. It makes no difference where you are, you get the same comfort over smooth macadam or rough country roads.

A Car of Real Quality

The deftness of European designers in developing features that add to beauty, comfort and convenience, combined with the skill of Velie engineers in developing features that add to service and ability.

In quality of finish the "Velie" discredits any but the highest priced cars. In excellence of materials; in high grade of equipment; in permanency of style, none can be better, for in these essential features only the best and newest is used.

The new motor-driven tire pump; the graceful top; the big 37x4 1/2 inch tires on the big "Four" and the light "Six," with Non-skid tires on the rear wheels, are combined as regular equipment only in the "Velie."

Features of Design

- Motor-driven Tire Pump on 12 & 14 37x4 1/2 inch Tires on "Big Four" and "Light Six," with non-skid Tires for rear.
- 34x4 inch Tires on "Light Four."
- Smooth unbroken body lines.
- Tires at rear, with clean running-boards.
- High sides; deep, roomy body space.
- Tapering upholstery blending into body rails.
- Quick detachable side curtains.
- Double-Dimmer Headlights.
- Crown Fenders.
- Gray & Davis electric Starting and Lighting.
- Bosch Dual Ignition.
- Special Rain-vision Windshield.
- Left Steer with center control.
- Warner Speedometer.
- Pressure Feed, with the gasoline tank at the rear on large cars.

A Light, Economical Car

Weight has also been worked out, for the car for 1915 is going to be light-weight for its size and power.

Velie engineers have gone at the weight problem in the right sort of way and have secured notably light weight, with superior strength, with the proper use of the highest grade materials. The manufacturer who argues heavy weight as an indication of strength no longer commands attention. The buying public is convinced that the light-weight car is the only satisfactory car.

In view of the exaggerated claim for light weight made by manufacturers, it might be well for you to make a direct comparison. Place the car upon scales which you know to be authentic. Take the weight of the VELIE under the same conditions as you take the weight of any other car with which you want to make comparison. Then look at the tire sizes on Models 12 and 14. The tires are 37x4 1/2 inches.

There is from 10% to 20% less weight on the tires of a "Velie" than on those of any other car of equal size we know. This means from 40% to 80% greater service from the tires.

The result of big tires on the real light-weight "Velie" is low tire cost.

And fuel and upkeep costs are also light. There is greater mileage from the gasoline, because there is less load to carry. There is less cost for upkeep because weight and strength are in proper proportion.

"Fours" and "Sixes"

Each have their logical place. Among cars of high price and power the "Six" has its advantages.

But the low-priced "Six" has never been a serious competitor of the high-grade "Four."

The line between Velie "Fours" and "Sixes" is a definite, firmly-established basis for proper engineering design. When six-cylinder design has reached a point where a real "Six" at lower price is possible Velie will build it.

Our allotment of "Velie" cars for 1915 for immediate delivery is limited. Advance orders will take up the output of the factory for weeks ahead. But you can arrange for demonstration now, and if you come early it may be possible for us to give you a satisfactory delivery date on the car you want. Demonstrations and deliveries of cars must be made in order.

NOT MUCH DOING IN STOCK MARKET

No Alarm in Wall Street
Over the Claflin Failure.
Sentiment Cheerful--Bonds
Were Irregular.

New York, June 17.—The stock market fell into the doldrums again today, with the Dow Jones industrial average amounted to about 70,000 shares and the listless movement left little doubt that the market was in a slump.

Prices of representative shares were lifted fractionally above the previous close, but the market was not as buoyant as was more cheerful, the Cladin failure was no longer being regarded as cause for concern, and the sentiment was noted a strong undertone.

The day practically was devoid of interest, with the market moving from leading mercantile trade centers were moderately optimistic.

Some of the clearing houses and banks was much in excess of all estimates, aggregating over $100,000,000, more than the week's gold withdrawals.

Bonds were irregular with a loss of 2 1/2 cents on the island debenture 5s. Total sales, par value, $780,000. Panama canal bonds declined 1-4 cent on call during the week.

Closing During the Week.

ship was the all-important feature of the week in the stock market. It is yet too soon to gauge the full effect of the failure, but it is evident that among its many results will be a curtailment of commercial credits.

The market gave an indubitable exhibition of strength in the face of extraordinary conditions. That prices yielded but little

Conditions in the steel industry remain unchanged, albeit trade authorities express the opinion that the last half of the year will be worse than the first half. Copper

Crop conditions, except for unfavorable weather in parts of the middle west and southwest, lose little of their bright promise. Railroad returns for May were mainly disappointing. Quoted rates for time money show little change. Gold exports continue, but in more moderate volume.
